REPUBLICAN LOCAL OUTLOOK.

The political outlook from both a republican and democratic standpoint, so far as Amador county is concerned, is more complicated than for several years past. From the returns of the last general election the republicans have an average margin of 150 votes over the democrats. Pardee's majority was below the average, being 86; Lane, the democratic nominee for governor, was about 100 votes stronger than his party in this county. Every man on the republican state ticket carried the county by a substantial majority. Indeed 86 for Pardee was the lowest majority on the state and congressional tickets. Curry, for secretary of state, received 309 majority in the county. On clear-cut party lines between republicans and democrats, it may be safely calculated that the republicans have 150 votes more than their opponents. This year the possible injection of the labor organization into politics may disturb these figures. To what extent this disturbing factor may break into the old party ranks cannot be foreseen, and it is useless to speculate upon such a proposition.

While the republicans as far as the state and congressional tickets are concerned made an excellent showing, rolling up a substantial majority for every candidate, when the field of local candidates comes under investigation the result is very disappointing. Amador county republicans can vote well for outsiders, but for members of their own party running for local or state offices they have not made a correspondingly satisfactory showing. Only three local men secured a majority. McKenney for assemblyman by 77, T. K. Norman for sheriff by 223, and J. Marchant by 815 votes. The rest of the official plums were given to the democrats by decisive majorities. It is well for republicans to ponder over this matter; find out the causes which have contributed to this wholesale desertion of local candidates by republicans, and apply the remedy, if a remedy is possible. The logic of the facts stated is that republicans have faith in the national and state management of the party, and the candidates presented—confidence enough to vote the ticket—but local issues and candidates do not come up to the notion of the rank and file to carry them to victory. It is unquestionably true that republicans as a rule pay more regard to national and state politics, while the democrats are more concerned to secure the local offices. It is on national issues that party principles are pressed to the front, and control the actions of the voters. In county affairs the personnel of the candidate is often the potent factor, and party allegiance is relegated to the background. That is to say, it takes less ground to alienate republican support from a candidate for a local office than for a state or national office. It must not be inferred, however, that even in local affairs republicans are disposed to act arbitrarily, and scratch their ticket merely for the sake of scratching. The Ledger is not an advocate of blind adherence to party ticket. If an unfit man is put up for office, it is a duty a man owes to himself and the cause of good government to vote against him. This sort of independence is too sacred and vital to the welfare of the community to admit of discussion. Loyalty to party must be subordinate to loyalty to country and home interests. But when candidates against whose character and fitness nothing can be said are scratched, the effect is demoralizing in the extreme. It is this tendency that is discouraging, and the cause of it must be removed ere we can hope to succeed to the extent warranted by our numerical superiority. It is the duty of those elected on the republican ticket to stand by those who helped to elect them. If they do not do this they forfeit all claim to support as party men. The idea of casting aside those whose fealty has been proven, and reaching out, by the disposal of patronage, to those who have not supported them, in the belief that such a course is calculated to gather votes, is vicious and cannot be upheld by any right-thinking man. The trouble with the republicans of Amador county is there has been too much of the hob-nobbing spirit manifested toward democracy. In some quarters the true republican ring is lacking in the political make-up. There is too much of the mug-wump, half-way spirit. Some imagine that a combination with democratic officeholders, a sort of republican-democratic brotherhood for mutual protection and benefit, is the road to political advancement. They argue that they will lose nothing of their hold on republican voters by such training in the opposition camp, while at the same time they will make themselves invulnerable by patronizing the other side. This is a fatal mistake. No party deserves success that adopts such a course. As a party the republicans of Amador do not approve of such trimming. Nevertheless we have suffered, and are still suffering from such trimmers. The abuse must be stopped. Members of a minority party may find excuse for bidding for outside support. They have to break in on the other side to win. But republicans in Amador county have only to hold their party vote in order to win. When voters have confidence that candidates after election will do the right thing, they will be apt to stand up to the party ticket, and not tilt then.

PROMISES KEPT.

(From The Philadelphia Inquirer.)

"We have made the deed square with the word," said President Roosevelt, in accepting the nomination officially tendered him by Speaker Cannon.

That is another way of saying that the Republican party has kept its promises to the people.

Is not the country contented under Roosevelt?

The gold standard has been maintained and made a fixture, so that even Judge Parker, who twice supported and voted for the party and candidate of free silver, acknowledges it.

Business interests have been strictly guarded from all disturbing influences, and as far as Republican Congress and a careful administration could do so.

Steps have been taken to put an end to criminal combinations designed to restrain trade.

In foreign affairs there has been a steady insistence for open ports in the Far East to commerce. American citizens have been protected in their rights. There have been no dangerous foreign entanglements.

On the contrary, the administration's policy, while it has been positive, has made for peace. The result is that the American nation is respected everywhere.

This being the case, how can the party of the opposition hope to carry the country under no better plea than that a charge of administration is desirable.

GET REGISTERED.

We again call the attention of republican voters to the necessity of getting registered at once. Remember that in order to vote at the forthcoming presidential election, every citizen must be re-registered. In conformity with a law passed several years ago, a new registration of voters is required for every general election. The county clerk is now engaged in this work. Registration will close September 28th, forty days before the election. The work is proceeding slowly. There is a backwardness, not unusual in the early part of all campaigns, manifested by citizens on this subject. They are apt to put it off from time to time, arguing that there is ample time yet to attend to this duty. By this sort of procrastination more or less votes are lost every election. We urge upon every unregistered republican to see to it that he registers the first time he visits Jackson, or any other town where a deputy clerk is authorized to perform this work. California is firmly planted in the republican column, but it can only be kept there by due diligence of republicans in getting in line to exercise their rights as citizens. Besides there are important state and local issues involved in the coming contest at the ballot box. It behooves every patriotic citizen to realize that the duty devolves upon him as an individual to do his part in behalf of good government, in nation, state and county, by the conscientious exercise of his privileges as a voter.

BRYAN'S VIEW OF NOMINATION.

I have nothing to take back, I have nothing to withdraw of the things that I have said against the methods pursued to advance his candidacy. It was a plain and deliberate attempt to deceive the party. The New York platform was vague and purposely so, because the advocates of Judge Parker were trying to secure votes from among the people who would have opposed his views had they known them. The nomination was secured, therefore, by crooked and indecorous methods.—William Jennings Bryan.

The Republican party meets live issues; the democratic party dodges them.

The chief plank in every Democratic platform is a confession that the party was wrong in the last campaign.

The fact remains that Bryan fought for his colors at St. Louis, while Dave Hill sought to gold brick the delegates.

CAMP ROOSEVELT, August 9.

Travel to the high altitudes of the Sierras has been light so far. Fishing has been good, in a great measure as the result of light travel.

There are three camps at Silver Lake. Mrs. E. Richards and three children of Sutter Creek are camping at Plasse's, visiting with her father, Francis Ledoux, at Silver Lake.

Stevens and McKinney have added a dining room to the store and have two commodious tents, called the Wayside Inn.

At Kirkwoods the four camps of six tents consist of two of the Vela boys of Jackson, J. Lima of Butte, and W. Fullen of Martell's station; Mr. and Mrs. Dornin and daughter of San Francisco, Violet Fleming, Victoria Fleming, Rob and Harvey Fleming of New York Ranch, Mr. and Mrs. J. Clawley, two sons and one daughter, Miss Daisy Peary and brother of Stockton, E. S. Pitois and three children of Jackson.

At Kirkwood's hotel there are Ed. Kelley and Walter Taylor of Jackson, N. Smith and S. Parker of Michigan Bar, J. Pendola of Jackson Gate, M. Jonas and C. Woodhull of Sutter Creek, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cramer of Stockton, (Mr. Cramer is a partner in the marble and stone works of Stockton.)

A large band of Indians from Carson Valley are camping here, and fishing. Some have to stay in camp all the time for fear of depredations.

Mrs. Kirkwood has had a very artistic and substantial porch built in front of the hotel proper; also a commodious and convenient barn, 36x50 feet in size. The work was done by John Hageman and George Enfield.

Walking down to the soda spring at Kirkwoods is quite a fad this year.

W. Richards, Gene Ledoux, Vic Saugunetti and J. Moon are the latest arrivals at the Plasse dairy.

As the dancing element at Kirkwood's was likely to leave by the 15th a dance was held the night before. Those who participated were: Mrs. E. Cramer, E. Cramer, A. Dornin, Misses M. Caple, E. Eldridge, Alva Kirkwood, Vic and Violet Fleming, Irma Cramer, Alice Dornin, Violet Pitois, Messrs. Mugford, Murray, Gray, Fleming, Cronin, N. Ferrari, Jack and Joe Lima, W. Fullen, W. Kirkwood, Dornin and Ed. Casey. Music for the occasion was furnished by E. S. Pitois. The calling by J. Dornin was the feature of the evening.

Last night all the campers and guests at the hotel gathered at Dornin's camp to the number of 27, and were entertained for an hour or so by Bert Clawley with his phonograph, singing and conversation ably helping to fill out the 24 hours spent there. Mr. Dornin is agent for the Home Mutual Insurance Co.

J. G. Keeney, formerly of Jackson, now of Woodbridge, has been spending several days in Jackson this week, the guest of his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Stewart, and family.

If you are going fishing or hunting be afraid of Poison Oak, take a dose of Dr. Mason's Poison Oak Cure. It is a perfect preventative.

Wm. Chisholm, of the firm of Ramotta & Chisholm, came in tonight in the circular saw last week, and inched his arm near the elbow joint. He is now filling the position as boss.

F Humphrey Jones, of Sutter Creek, while working for Ramazotta & Chisholm, at the Fremont mine, fell from a log on which he was standing and broke both bones of the left forearm.

Mrs. Solari, of Mokelumne Hill, sister of the Garbarini brothers of Jackson, is reported to be seriously ill. It was the intention to take her to San Francisco for medical treatment today.

H. Thrasher, while trying to unlatch a large glass door at the M. E. church Wednesday, was struck on the arm, cutting a nasty gash near the elbow which compelled him to lay off while. No bones were broken.

Democratic primaries were held throughout the county last Tuesday. There was no contest in Jackson. Only two votes were polled. It is said that Strohm has given up the idea of running for the nomination of supervisor, and that M. Newman will have no option for re-nomination.

Mr. Frieman of Volcano, is making arrangements to start a sanitarium. With the advent of the railroad even nearer as the mineral belt the eastern portion of the county is expected to become a health resort. Volcano is well situated for a sanitarium. It is expected to have everything in operation the beginning of next year.

George Courtright on Wednesday night from his place on Sutter creek to months old fawn, captured by a nearly two months ago on his ranch, and which has been a pet about the premises ever since. It took it back to the ranch the same day.

Bishop J. W. Hamilton, D. D., L. D., one of the great leaders of the Methodist Episcopal church, will visit Jackson this week. The object of his visit is to dedicate the new Methodist church next Lord's day. He will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening. It will afford the people of Jackson a rare opportunity to hear one of the great preachers of the century. Since the citizens of all denominations, Catholics as well as Protestants, and of no denomination, have contributed liberally towards the erection of the church, and consequently have an interest in its future welfare, it is hoped that the good bishop will be greeted with large congregations at both services. Good music will be rendered. Morning service at 10 a. m. instead of 11 o'clock. Evening service at 7:30.

Dr. Call, as health officer, was called to Brytown last Tuesday to investigate a case of suspected leprosy. The disease appeared on the side of the victim's arm, and had eaten away the tissue in a terrible manner. It was reported that the malady might be hereditary, and the health officer was satisfied that as a protection to neighbors and the community generally an extermination with a view of definitely killing the nature of the disease was imperative upon the county authorities.

The victim is Homer B. Clark, but 83 years of age, a brother of W. B. Clark, the well known temperance orator. He has been afflicted for 20 years, and lives alone in the heart of the village, looked after by his brother. Naturally the neighbors were anxious, especially when the plague leprosy was mooted in connection therewith. On the health officer's return he stated that the disease was cancer.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Republican primaries were held throughout the county last Saturday evening. There was no contest anywhere except in Lone, where two tickets were brought out on the supervisor's question. One ticket favored the re-nomination of W. M. Amick, and the other G. Jones. Both sides caucused, and decided upon the ticket to be run in the interest of each faction. The controversy was really a continuation of the anti-social agitation which has kept the valley town in a furor for some time. The partisans worked hard in their respective spheres, and nearly 150 votes were polled. The Amick side won out two to one. This settles the question of the supervisor's re-nomination on the republican side.

J. Clifton and J. Q. Horton have been mentioned as probable candidates for supervisor in this district before the democratic convention.

In Township One the republicans are limited that S. W. Bright is the strongest man to make the race for supervisor. He is not a candidate in this year's usual acceptance of that term; that is, he is not, and never has been, a seeker of that office. If the nomination is tendered him he will accept and make the most of it. Under these circumstances it is not likely that any other name will be presented to the convention, as it is realized that Mr. Bright, by large business experience, sound judgment and integrity is the right man for the place. On the democratic side M. Freeman is urged for re-nomination. He has been in office but one term, and is out of ordinary course to refuse a re-nomination where the office-holder, in his case, has given satisfaction to his party. Another candidate, however, has appeared in the democratic ranks in the person of John Strohm, proprietor of the Jackson Brewery. He wants the nomination, and it is reported, if he fails to secure the honor, he may conclude to run independent, as a candidate with the labor union backing.

In Township Four there is no question that the republicans will tender the nomination to Morris Brinn, a former supervisor from that township, and whose work on the roads during his official term has commended him to the support of the citizens without regard to party. There is some talk of the democrats nominating C. E. Jarvis in the steam laundry. It is also reported that H. D. Calvin, of Amador county, who is identified with the Miners' union of that district, wants to run as a labor union candidate. It is not at all improbable that there will be a triangular contest.

The democratic county convention was called to meet in Jackson next Saturday, the same date as the republican. This is the first time in the history of the county, so far as our recollection serves us, that the two political conventions have been called to meet in the same town and on the same day. The republicans made the first call, and their gathering will meet in the court-room. The democratic body will convene in Love's hall. It seems probable that the democratic state convention meets next Monday, and there was no report of getting out of the difficulty early by getting the convention on Saturday. It is understood that both conventions will proceed with all the business to be transacted, namely, the selection of delegates to the state conventions, which will also be empowered to act in the assembly and congressional conventions; also the selection of a new county central committee and the nomination of three supervisors in their respective districts, namely, districts one, two, and four.

In township four there was a lively fight at the democratic primaries last Tuesday. Sutter Creek elected delegate favorable to the candidacy of C. E. Fraser for supervisor. Amador county went for H. D. Calvin. As Sutter Creek out-votes Amador in the convention, it is conceded that Fraser will be the democratic candidate. It is thought that the socialist or union ticket will be traced, namely, to Calvin as their candidate. A three-cornered struggle in townships one and four is promised.

Railroad Progress.

Everything now points toward the completion of the railroad as far as Campbell's station at an early date. It is believed that the Southern Pacific is behind the enterprise, and if so it will unquestionably be put through without delay. Surveyors are out making more careful survey for grade than has heretofore been done. This is adapted to mean that the road will be adapted for steam traffic; that steep grades, which would not be a serious obstacle in an electric line, are to be avoided as much as possible. A large force of graders and brush cutters are at work. As the route is now indicated the line will cross the Lone wagon road at least four, if not five times.

Post-office Inspectors.

L. H. Bricker, an inspector of post-offices, and J. Stewart, who is being initiated in the same business, arrived in Jackson Monday evening. It is customary to pay a visit of inspection to every postoffice once a year, oftener when occasion demands. In addition to the usual business, Mr. Bricker looked into the libelous anonymous letters which passed through the Jackson postoffice some months ago. He has been made acquainted with the facts, as far as known, the original better in the hands of the sheriff was shown to him, and the matter is left in his hands.

Forest Fire.

A destructive forest fire has been raging for several days along the Amador wagon road, between John Campbell's place and Wiley's station. It has burned over a large area on both sides of the road, for a distance of nearly five miles. John Campbell had about a dozen men out at threatened points to protect his property as much as possible. The large majority of timber has been destroyed. E. S. Pitois came down from Silver Lake yesterday, and the fire was still burning when he passed through.

Teachers Appointed.

The following additional school teachers have been appointed since our last report:

Middle Fork — Miss Hazel Ward Brown.

Grape Vine — Miss Mary Tibbitts.

Slate Creek, Gilbert, Willow Springs, Camp Opra, and the principal of Jackson school are the only vacancies to

AN ALLEGED..... SHOOTING SCRAPE

Charles Dickerman, a Union Picket at Fremont, Shot at Near Amador City.

Three Shots Fired, One Taking Effect Into the Leg—Three Non-Union Men Under Arrest.

Amador City has furnished a sensational news item this week in the shape of a shooting affair that occurred near that town on Wednesday night. The victim is Charles Dickerman, aged about 38 years, one of the Dickerman family of Quartz Mountain. Dickerman is a member of Amador City Miners' Union. When the strike occurred at the Fremont he was employed as the interest of the strikers. For several weeks, however, he had been off duty. He had been drinking some, and was temporarily off guard. Wednesday evening, as the story goes, he was on his way to Amador City on horseback. He passed the saloon of Shealar & Winram, quarter of a mile beyond Amador City, about 8 o'clock. A short distance from this place he met three men—who union employees of the Fremont men—were proceeding toward the saloon. One version is that Dickerman made a remark for the men to look out, as he had an unruly horse. When Dickerman reached Amador he reported that he had been shot. It is reported that two shots were fired at him, one of which took effect in the calf of the left leg. Another bullet passed through his hat. A doctor was called and examined the wound. It is thought that the ball lodged between the two bones. The wound is not considered serious. The three men whom Dickerman met were J. H. Hinckley, James Forbes and F. Sexton. They went on to the saloon in question, and stayed there for half an hour, after which they proceeded to the Fremont boarding house, near the mine. They were arrested on the road by deputy sheriff D. S. Gray, charged with being concerned in the shooting. They were brought to Jackson the same night and lodged in jail.

The deputy sheriff heard the men talking before he made the arrest. They were referring to the rough condition of the road, and said they would not venture away again at night time. There was nothing to indicate in their talk that they had been in any trouble. They started out from the mine that evening to look up a fellow workman at New Chicago; not finding him there they proceeded to Amador. They admitted meeting Dickerman on the road, and after passing him they heard two shots; further than this they knew nothing. Superintendent Goodall makes the position that if his men get into trouble outside the premises he wants the law to be vindicated; and as soon as he heard they were suspected he wanted them taken in charge for the mens' own protection if innocent, and the maintenance of the law if guilty. The feeling was strong, as soon as the facts were stated, that the three men had nothing to do with it. Dickerman himself said they were not talked up with it; he was inclined to believe that D. Gray, the deputy sheriff, did the shooting. This idea was still wide of the mark, as Gray was at the Fremont when the shooting took place.

Thursday night a man named John Bunker Hill, an Italian employed at the Bunker Hill mine, was arrested by deputy sheriff Gray on suspicion of committing the crime. He was on the road at the time, with a heavy pack on his back, and making his way out of the mine. He soon made a full confession, admitting that he did the shooting. He shot twice at Dickerman. His explanation is that he was sitting on the roadside when Dickerman came up. Torto is a non-union miner; that he had been much annoyed by the efforts of the union men to get him to join the union; that Dickerman appealed to him in this behalf. When Dickerman saw him by the road side he stopped and addressed him, and proceeded to discount. He pleaded to be let alone; he was frightened, and in this terror he drew his gun and fired twice. Torto was lodged in the county jail. The other three men were released last night, and proceeded back to the mine.

The mystery of the affair is fully cleared up by this confession, and considerable agitation in the vicinity of Amador has been thereby allayed.

Mrs. F. W. Hanson of Marysville is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Martin of Amador City.

E. M. Hurst, of the Globe hotel, is still in the hospital in San Francisco. Reports have reached here that he is improving. We learn that he has been able to sit up, and was to all appearance on the mend. It is realized, however, that his condition is still very critical, and does not admit of his undergoing the homeward trip at present.

T. M. Bayless, who has been rusticated in the vicinity of Silver lake for several weeks, traveling with a burro and pack, arrived in Jackson Sunday. He is roughing it principally for his health. While traveling in the mountains he did some prospecting, but failed to meet with anything that held out any sufficient hope of financial reward to justify extensive examination.

It pays to get your horse shod right at Costa's.

Allie Osuna, cook at the Standard Electric plant at Electra, while cutting up a quarter of beef last Friday, cut the thumb of his left hand near the first joint. He had the wound bound up as best he could, and let it go. Indications of blood-poisoning appeared, so he came to Jackson and consulted a surgeon. The injury was then treated properly, and the healing process is expected to continue right along without further trouble. Osuna is a cousin of Santos Gallegos of the Union stable.

Fresh pickled olives of the season just received; 65c per gallon. Nettles' Market.

Narciso Mariotti, who is charged with assault to murder James Devecchi in Sacramento on the 11th of July, has engaged A. Caminetti as his counsel. The preliminary examination was held last Saturday in Sacramento. Mr. Caminetti was not present, but telephoned to proceed with the hearing, and that he would be present at the trial. The defense introduced no testimony, and defendant was held for trial. Mariotti shot Devecchi three times, alleging that he thought defendant had tried to poison him. He was gambling and drinking prior to the assault.

The brick work of the third story of the Odd Fellows hall building was finished early this week. It is the skyscraper of Jackson. The upper room, which will be used for the hall room proper, is 16 feet in the clear, from floor to ceiling. The ante rooms will be in the rear, as the stairway to the third floor will start close to the landing of the second floor, or the old hall room. The front of the new addition is neatly and artistically done. A granite block appears two feet from the top of the wall and in the center of the front, in which has been cut the symbol of the order, and the initials J. O. F., 1855.

The remains of Mrs. Alice Stewart were brought from San Francisco last Friday evening and interred in the Jackson cemetery the following day. Rev. F. A. Morrow conducted the ceremonies, assisted by the choir.

Mrs. Stewart is a younger sister of Mrs. H. Leam of Jackson, and of William, Cleveland and Lewis Jones, formerly of Jackson. Deceased was born in Plymouth, where her parents are buried. A sister was interred in the Jackson graveyard some years ago, and it was on this account, and also because some of her relatives are still living here, that the remains were brought to this place, to rest beside the body of her sister who preceded her to the grave. Her husband, Chas. Stewart, of the city, and brothers above named from Vallejo, came up to attend the funeral, which was impressively conducted and largely attended.

A BIG BREAK IN PLANT'S PIPE LINE

The Standard Electric Plant is Severely Damaged—A Shut-Down for at Least a Week. The Dynamoes Covered with Debris from the Mountain.

Probably the worst disaster that has overtaken the big electric plant at the Standard Electric Company at Electra, occurred about 12 o'clock Friday night, August 11. The old crank pressure under which the five dynamos has been operated is 1400 feet. This is over 250 feet less pressure than a full head. It had been deemed inadvisable to utilize the immense pressure of the full fall of 1650 feet, as it was feared by some that a portion of the pipe would be unable to stand the strain. The volume of water running on the wheels from five 3-inch nozzles was over 5000 inches—a stream sufficient to supply the largest city in the United States with water for domestic purposes. The power generated by the five dynamoes, operating to their full capacity, was 14000 horsepower, sent principally to the cities around the bay of San Francisco, operating street car lines in Oakland and San Jose. To economize water the company sent up word to utilize the full head. Consequently the additional 250 feet was turned on early Friday morning, and this experiment brought speedy disaster. Many street car lines stop running about midnight, and the reduced demand for power by the streetcars down one or more dynamoes, the sudden stoppage naturally throwing increased pressure upon the pipe-line. It was this extra strain on the pipe—the first after the utilization of the full head—that led to the trouble. The pipe line is composed of heavy steel pipe, except toward the head which is of cast iron, and the additional head of 250 feet from the cast iron to the intake is of wood. The cast iron pipe is three quarters of an inch thick. The sudden jar blew out a piece of this pipe 8 feet long and 13 inches wide. Such was the power of the water even at this distance up the hill, that this mass—weighing nearly half a ton—was carried 300 feet down the hill. The gap opened a river. Five thousand inches of water was turned loose, tearing down the hillside for 1400 feet, and striking the power house at the bottom with the force of an avalanche, carrying the loose soil and large boulders in its path. The wooden pipe above the break collapsed from the vacuum when the water was turned off from the head of the line. The power house was covered two or three feet deep with mud and debris. The galvanized iron siding of the power house was stove in where the force of the water struck it, as if fashioned of paper. The dynamoes were covered up in mud sluices, while the time after the accident, scattering the mud over the whole machinery. It was about 30 minutes after the break occurred before the water was shut off, and the machinery was brought to a complete standstill. Fortunately, the steel pipe line below the point of the break is mounted on concrete piers, and thereby escaped injury. On either side of the piers the hillside has been washed out considerably by the rush of water.

The damage is estimated at fully $30,000, beside the loss of revenue entailed by the stoppage. Two tons of new pipe arrived Tuesday by express. Over 100 men were put to work clearing out the mud from the power house, and freeing the machinery from the debris. How long it will take to get the plant in full working order again is not known. It is hoped to supply the power for the mines and mills by the end of this week. The dynamoes are deluged with water, and they must be thoroughly dry before carrying a full load, on account of the danger of burning out on account of moisture. The cast iron pipe will be replaced with steel.

The American River Company was able to supply about 1500 horse power to tide the Standard Electric Company over the difficulty. The mines were shut off from power for a few hours, until the American River plant was called into requisition. Of course, the energy available from this source falls far short of meeting the demand. The repair of the break will no doubt be done with a view of being able to utilize the full pressure hereafter. There is no other plant in the world operating under such high pressure with anything like the volume of water. A break in the ditch of the American River Company caused a shut-down of mines throughout the county dependent upon electric power. The break occurred Tuesday night.

M. E. Church Dedication.

Next Sunday, August 21, the new M. E. church will be dedicated. Bishop J. W. Hamilton, D. D. and L. H. D., will preach morning and evening. The repairs may not be entirely completed on that date, but that was the only Sabbath that the bishop's time was not covered by pre-engagement, and so it was decided to have the opening services at that time. The bishop is one of the most forceful and eloquent divines of the Methodist church. The church will no doubt be crowded morning and evening. Every one should make an effort to attend one or both of these services.

Fire in Satter Creek.

The new dwelling house of Patrick Grady on Main street, opposite the brewery, was destroyed by fire Saturday evening. Another dwelling, belonging to Mr. Grady's mother, was only four feet distant from the house destroyed, still by excellent work of the fire fighters, aided by the absence of wind, it was saved. The house burned was erected about two years ago, and cost in the neighborhood of $1700. There is some insurance, but how much we have not learned. Mr. Grady was at work when the fire occurred, and his wife was away in the mountains.

DOINGS OF AMADOR COUNTY'S MINES

SAWYER—This claim is situated near the Mokelumne river, in Pioneer district. A gentleman named Newman, of San Francisco, is operating with a force of eight men in running a tunnel to tap the ledge at a distance of 150 feet from the surface. They have about 50 feet further to run to reach the ledge. This claim was formerly known as the Pine mine, and has yielded rich rock in years past.

WIDE AWAKE—At this mine, which is in Railroad Flat mining district, Calaveras county, a peculiar state of affairs is presented. The ore assays $10 and $11 per ton, but several milling tests have proved unavailing in saving more than from 50 cents to $1 per ton. The tailings show gold value of about $10. If any method can be devised to save a fair percentage of the gold, the property may be made a remunerative one. The rock is not evidently of the free milling character. Geo. I. Wright has had an expert from San Francisco visit the mine recently, an experienced assayer and mineralogist, who after thorough examination gave it as his opinion that the ore might be treated by the cyanide process. The management has decided to fix up a small plant to test this treatment. An assessment of one cent per share has been levied for this purpose. The ore differs materially in character from other gold ores in that vicinity. There is little doubt some method can be devised to recover the gold. The problem may take a little time, and involve considerable experimenting to solve.

TREADWELL—Tuesday of this week it was our good fortune to meet personally Messrs. J. Schenck and J. Oneta, general manager and foreman respectively of the Sutter Creek Gold Company, who are operating at this mine, and to be shown by them the extent of present developments. To a person who was familiar with the mine and its history as we were, it is surprising to see what has been done in so short a time. The 5-stamp mill is one of the most substantial we have ever seen. The water supply is unlimited, and the ore from every tunnel is of a grade that will make the mine a good dividend proposition when the company secures a larger mill. The object of the 5-stamp mill being to test the ore chutes thoroughly. So far results have been most flattering, and the company is securing adjoining properties. Two tunnels 500 feet in length have already been run, following the veins which have proven to be from 3 to 10 feet in width. A shaft 47 by 14 feet is being sunk on the main ledge, and is now 30 feet deep. The rock is improving with depth. Other tunnels and cross-cuts will be run to tap the veins at different places, and if present favorable indications continue more extensive operations will be begun. A new bunk house has already been erected, the boarding house has been enlarged, the blacksmith shop is being more thoroughly equipped every day, and every improvement is of a substantial nature. There are 15 miners employed at present. The men receive good pay, are well fed, and not a word of complaint is ever heard from any of them. We hope and believe that this mine will prove to be a bonanza under its present management.

Big Cucumbers.

As samples of giant cucumbers, the product of Jackson soil, we were presented this week with three specimens, grown in the garden of Mrs. L. Love, on Peak's hill. The three weighed five pounds, or nearly 14 pounds each. One measured over 15 inches in length. They are the largest specimens of this vegetable we have seen for many years. We take pleasure in publishing these facts, to show what can be accomplished in the gardening line, even on a small town lot, with a little care and the judicious use of water.

AUKUM, August 15.

"Hot weather and dust" is the cry in this little burg. It reminds one of the "good old summer time."

Quite a number of the young folk attended the dance given in the new hall at Mt. View last Saturday. They report having had a fine time.

Ike Whiteacre, who is working on the railroad for the Dog Town Company, came home Saturday and returned Sunday to his work.

Geo. Cruson was on the sick list last week.

Chas. Shields of Plymouth, passed through here last Tuesday on his way to Grizzly Flat, where he has a homestead.

Mr. Carter, who has been hauling ties for the Dog Town Company, has got through, and returned home last Thursday. Friday morning he bested the misfortune to lose one of his best horses.

Sam Casper and Jess Walton have gone up on the Rubicon to remain a month.

Laura Votaw, Hattie and Henry Seeley, and John Yager went to Sacramento this morning. Miss Votaw went down to prove up on her timber claim, and the others went as witnesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Stark received a telephone message from Rockland, stating that their only daughter, Mrs. Lillian Higbee, was seriously ill with typhoid fever at that place.

Louis McGaffie, who was driving team for Will Pearson, had the misfortune to get his knee dislocated while loading logs at Chas. Bell's place. As it was impossible for the doctor to come to Mr. Bell's place he was taken to Plymouth, where the injured knee was soon fixed by Dr. Triffany. He is getting along nicely. NONE.

New Supply of Stationery.

The Ledger office has just received, direct from the east, over two tons of news and job printing stock. This is the largest shipment of paper ever received by a newspaper in Amador county. The supply includes all kinds of stock for commercial work, such as billheads, letter heads, envelopes, bank checks, posters and cards. We can furnish you with job printing at prices that cannot be approached by any other office in the county, and can compete in price with outside firms. As we get our stock in large quantities from the manufacturers direct, we are in a position to do work at a material reduction on rates heretofore prevailing in this county. And furthermore, we are determined to bid for work that has heretofore gone, and is still going, elsewhere, on account of slight difference in rates. We can give you common business cards at $2.50 per 1000, and billheads and letter heads common quality of paper at $3 per 1000. You will save money by sending your printing to the Ledger office. We can give you nicely printed letter heads, note heads, and envelopes for less than you can buy the blank stock for in the retail stores.
